Mrs. W. D. Lawrence Given House-keeping Shower—

Quite a pretty courtesy was shown Mrs. W. D. Lawrence on Tuesday afternoon when her lady friends, who had previously been invited, assembled at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Lawrence for the purpose of giving her a surprise in the nature of a kitchen shower. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence have recently purchased the pretty cottage just in front of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McQueen and are now pleasantly domiciled there. Mrs. Lawrence received her guests on the porch, where they were so cordially met and royally entertained. This was an ideal porch party, the surrounding trees and flowers lending their grandeur to the occasion, and the cool summer breeze adding to the comfort of the guests.

Mrs. Lawrence's gracious air of hospitality is infectious, and her guests are soon at ease when in her presence. By her thoughtful courtesies and thorough skill as hostess she made the occasion quite delightful.

After a couple of hours most pleasantly spent in conversation Misses Cora Garth and Frances Chance advanced in front of the charming honoree with a large basket filled to overflowing with the most useful kitchen utensils and as they did so Mrs. J. A. McQueen, with charming vivacity recited the following lines:

"Oh, Oh! Matie, my dear, come listen here,
A basket has come, too, filled with cheer;
It contains the wants and necessities of life,
For you promised to be an obedient wife.

The dipper is handy and so is the fork—
Always use it for chicken, be careful of the pork.
A broom is convenient and will brush away care,
For housekeeping is a delusion and snare.

The asbestos mats protect your stew,
Paper-bags save washing, so there's a cue.

It will save those dear pretty little hands,
For this time next year you'll take them for fans.

We all had them once pretty enough to kiss,
And now they look like petrified fish.

So go it, old girl, we all have been bit.
Over many a meal you'll have a fit.
Your dinner is ready at one and will come at six.

Makes lots of difference in the things you have fixed,
You will forget it, however, in knowing it's home.

To do as you please, for it's all your own."

The expression shown on Mrs. Lawrence's face told of her complete surprise and overwhelmed delight at the pretty compliment. She then in her lovable manner thanked each and all for the affection they had manifested on this occasion.

A daintily served course of nut cream and cake was much relished and was an enjoyable finale to the pretty entertainment.

Miss James Compliments Miss Langford of Franklin—

Miss Myrtle James entertained a number of her girl friends very pleasantly on Wednesday morning with a heart party in compliment to Miss Inez Langford of Franklin. Four tables to accommodate the guests were placed on the cool, shady porch where the morning hours were joyously spent. Hand-painted score cards, the work of the hostess, were passed around and the spirited game of hearts soon absorbed attention amid merry chatter, but so pleasantly and so rapidly did the time go by that the end of the games was called almost before the participants realized they had fairly begun. Miss Lillie Fay Sanders was the prize winner, receiving a pretty pair of silk hose. A most delightful morning was spent by the guests, as is usual with Miss Myrtle as hostess. An appetizing salad course with iced grape juice was beautifully served.

Those present were Misses Inez Langford, Mary James, Ida Wipprecht,

Lillie Fay Sanders, Lucy Harrison, Marjorie Bittle, Fannie Allen, Pauline Seale, Della Lawrence, Lila Adams, Martha Lou Wagner of Austin, Miss Roxie Long of Waco.

Labor Day Queen and Maids—

Following are the pictures of Miss Aline Rhodes as queen of Labor Day and her three maids, Misses Madeline Hanway, Ruth Boatwright and Helen deMaret. These are four of Bryan's fairest daughters, who, by the sweet and pleasant manner, have a love and high regard of all.

The Twilight Twenty—

A merry gathering of young girls was highly entertained at the residence of Mrs. W. J. Roberts on Friday afternoon when her daughter, Miss May Oliver Roberts, treated the Twilight Twenty to a delightful lawn party. Games of different kinds were indulged in, the most entertaining of which was a tree contest, and a pretty picture was given the girl answering the most questions. Refreshments of cream and cake were served. The happy and entertaining hostess made the party hours very pleasant for her guests.

A Surprise Birthday Dinner—

A charming hostess who knows just how to arrange a delightful evening for friends is Mrs. Albert J. Buchanan. On last Tuesday evening as Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan sat on their gallery reclining comfortably in their porch chairs the men comprising The Eagle office force and Mr. Buchanan's brother, Mr. A. W. Buchanan, arrived in a body upon invitation from Mrs. Buchanan to take dinner with her husband in celebration of his birthday. Mr. Buchanan was overwhelmed with delight and pleasure over the surprise of the secret that had been so well kept and planned by his wife. This day was indeed pleasantly spent by Mr. Buchanan, for during the morning he received birthday remembrances, together with letters, from his son and daughter in Houston, conveying messages of love and affection. Then, too, he received congratulations from his many friends.

The attractive dining room of this hospitable home formed an ideal setting for the table, which upon this occasion was prettily decorated in red and white, the color motif that was also carried out in the menu. The chandelier above was gracefully entwined with ferns and tied with loops of red maline, while in the center of the long table spread with a cloth of linen rested a crystal vase bowed with red maline and holding great clusters of white sweet peas and ferns. Cut glass dishes filled with salted nuts, cheese sticks and jelly were placed on lace doilies at intervals around the board.

At the close of the five-course dinner Mr. M. E. Wallace, the popular manager of The Eagle office, in a clever manner presented to Mr. Buchanan in behalf of the force a beautiful Masonic watch for as a token of the esteem in which he is held by his employees. In words of sincerity Mr. Buchanan showed his appreciation of the courtesy shown him.

The evening's pleasures as a whole bespoke the thoughtfulness and taste of Mrs. Buchanan, who arranged the decorations and gave careful attention to every detail of the affair. Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan are both noted for their hospitality and never appeared to better advantage. Nothing for the enjoyment of their guests was overlooked.

The dinner over, the guests were invited to the cool gallery where an hour was spent in pleasant conversation.

"Goodlet Day" with U. D. C.—

On Tuesday, September 10, at 4:30 p. m. the local chapter United Daughters of the Confederacy will celebrate "Goodlet Day" at their chapter rooms at Carnegie Hall. Mrs. Caroline Goodlet was the founder and first president general of the United Daughters of the Confederacy and on the anniversary of that important date, September 10, 1894, the members of the U. D. C. all over the United States will meet to do honor to this noble

Southern woman. No business will be transacted. Only the following program will be given:

Hymn: "God of hosts be with us yet; Lest we forget. Lest we forget."

Roll call: Some member of your chapter who went through the war.

Music: "The Girl I Left Behind Me."

Reading: "A Girl of the Sixties in Richmond."

Music: "Bonnie Blue Flag."

Address: "Mrs. Caroline Goodlet."

Music: "Listen to the Mocking-bird."

Music: "Do They Miss Me at Home?"

Reading: "Go to Sleep, My Little Baby Boy."

Hymn: "God Be with You Till We Meet Again."

Benediction.

Every member of the chapter and all others who feel an interest in this noble work are cordially invited to be present.

Move to England—

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Stewart will make their home in England. They have recently returned from summering in the south of England, and when they make the crossing next May it will be to reside. Their friends here are sorry to see them leave for permanent residence, and the friends of the four handsome little Stewart boys greatly regret to let them go from Uncle Sam to John Bull. Mr. Stewart is a Scotchman by birth, but has resided in this city for over twenty years. Mrs. Stewart is a member of a prominent Texas family and is a sister of Mrs. Eustace Taylor—Galveston News.

Mrs. Stewart was formerly Miss Ollie Wilson of Bryan and is a sister of Miss Lillie Wilson, our obliging librarian. She resided here for a number of years and has a great many friends who wish her happiness in her new home.

Notes and Personals—

The Woman's Club met in called session on Wednesday afternoon in their club rooms at Carnegie Hall. Mrs. Charles Davis, who has been quite a valuable member, resigned the office of vice president on account of removing to El Paso to live. The resignation was accepted with regret and Mrs. Glenn Flinn was elected to fill the office. She is a very capable woman and will no doubt fill the office efficiently.

Mrs. W. J. Roberts' friends will be glad to know she is recovering from a painful accident in which she sustained a broken ankle.

Miss Mary James and her guest, Miss Inez Langford of Franklin, are week-end guests of Miss Pauline Seale of Benchley.

Mrs. Della Johnson and Mrs. Graves of Carlsville are delightful guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Cooper. These charming ladies are mother and sister of Mrs. Cooper.

Miss Ruby James has returned home after a pleasant visit of several weeks with friends in Victoria and Houston.

Mrs. F. I. Garth is at home again after a visit to her sister in Fort Worth.

Miss Mary James will entertain a number of friends Tuesday morning in compliment to her guest, Miss Inez Langford of Franklin.

Miss Hettie Smith has returned home after a delightful stay of some weeks at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Friends of Mrs. Ed Hall and daughter, Miss Frances, are glad to see them back home after an extended summer visit to the North and East. They remained a couple of months in Virginia.

Miss Annie Dearing is back home from her summer vacation. Miss Dearing first took a course of study at the University of Texas in Austin, then spent the remainder of the summer with relatives at Webb.

Miss Laura James has gone to Bay City, where she will teach in the high school of that place the coming session.

Not Paint

With linseed oil at $1, what sort of oil do you think they use in "paint" at $1.75 and $1.50?

That stuff is counterfeit paint. You can cheat yourself; you can't cheat Time or Weather.

Paint is a rubbery coat over wood and iron to keep-out water.
Counterfeit paint may look like it; counterfeit money looks like money.

What are all counterfeits for? They are all alike.
